

I strongly oppose the use of cell phones and other verbal communication devices aboard aircraft. One can hardly go anywhere in an airport these days without having a person nearby chattering on a cell phone. And for some reason, the average human often thinks it is necessary to SHOUT to be heard. Can you imagine the cacaphony of babble that will reverberate inside an aircraft? What will be the result if passengers cannot hear safety or emergency instructions due to the noise level? NO, I say, a billion times, NO!
